

The Monday Memo is the weekly newsletter of the KU School of Journalism. It is sent to journalism faculty, staff, students and alumni who have requested it.

J-School Generations

Students, don't miss this year's J-School Generations! Not only will you get to meet and network with our successful alumni, but you can win prizes, too! Students who attend the J-Talk or participate in the round-robin networking and trivia/game show will earn tickets to be entered into a drawing for individual prizes and $750, $500 or $250 for their J-School-affiliated student media organization. Find out who this year's alumni quests are and see the schedule of events. Please fill out this web form to let us know which events you plan to attend so we can plan accordingly for the Oct. 20-21 event.

Faculty and staff news

Bremner Center coordinator Lisa McLendon, Kansan adviser Gerri Berendzen and instructor Barb Padget recently judged the Editorial Excellence section of the Inland Press Association Newsroom Contests. The winners will be announced at the Inland Press Association annual meeting later this month.

Last spring, academic faculty members teamed up with librarians on major research and teaching projects in one week during the Center for Faculty and Staff Initiatives & Engagement's inaugural Research Sprints. Associate Professor Genelle Belmas and her colleagues developed an undergraduate course on gamification, or applying elements of playing games to the learning process.

Student news

Students live streamed a Quidditch match between Kansas and Missouri on Oct. 1 at the Shenk Athletic Complex. Over 100 people watched online from numerous states, and the replay has been watched online over 200 times. The replay can be found here. Cade Cruickshank, J-School director of broadcast operations, helped build and set up the equipment on location. The crew consisted of J-School students Laura Furney (director), Luke Huttner (assistant director), Nick Springer (camera), Fulton Caster (camera), Jeremy Day (camera), and KUJH-TV Director Chris Bacon (coordinating producer).

Students also have been live streaming KU women's soccer matches this year, and the game against West Virginia was the fourth live stream that was produced entirely by J-School students. The last soccer live stream will be on Oct. 28. Replays can be found here. Click on "On Demand."

Dani Malakoff, who will intern at the Houston Chronicle next summer, is featured in this Dow Jones News Fund Internship Experience video.

Congratulations to Sara Li, who was recently named one of MTV's 18 campus ambassadors. Li will use MTV's platform to share her opinions and will occasionally be featured on its podcast and TV channel on various topics. Read Li's commentary here.

Mishal Bukhari, an award-winning broadcast journalist who has worked in print, radio and television, will visit the J-School on Oct. 31-Nov.1. Bukhari reports on politics, public diplomacy, women's issues, civil-military relations and socioeconomic issues in Pakistan. If students or faculty would like to meet with her or have her speak to a class, please email Cindy Hogle at chogle@ku.edu.

Get some writing experience and enrich your portfolio by writing for the Jayhawk Journalist! We are looking for J-School students to write short alumni features. If you are interested, please contact Julie Adam at julieadam@ku.edu.

Applications now open for School of Journalism scholarships

Each year, students are eligible to apply for School of Journalism scholarships. All students admitted to the school are encouraged to apply. Students who receive KU renewable scholarships should note that the School of Journalism will likely be funding those scholarships during your junior and senior years. Students receiving renewable scholarships should still apply for journalism scholarships; additional funds may be available. Applications are due Dec. 1 and scholarship recipients will be notified in April 2017. Scholarships are for the fall 2017 and spring 2018 academic year. Apply here.

KU Climate Study

On Sept. 13, KU launched the "Your Voice. Your KU" climate study, a university-wide examination of the living, learning and working environment at KU. This is an opportunity for faculty, staff and students to share their thoughts, ideas and suggestions about KU. Please complete the survey at kuclimatestudy.ku.edu before Oct. 14.

Celebrating Centennials

The William Allen White School of Journalism and Mass Communications is a sponsor for "Celebrating Centennials," a program to honor the 100-year anniversary of the Pulitzer Prize and the Baldwin City Library.

The library was selected by the Kansas Humanities Council to participate in its 2016 Pulitzer Prize Centennial Campfires Initiative program. The program in Kansas, "The Pulitzer Project in Kansas: William Allen White and Freedom of Speech," explores issues related to freedom of speech, democracy today, the role of William Allen White in Kansas history, and the impact of the Pulitzer prizes in journalism.

University of Kansas faculty, staff and students are welcome to attend at the library, 800 Seventh St., Baldwin City. Free.

The event schedule:

Oct. 25, 7 p.m.

Informance: "William Allen White: The Kansas of His Time"

KU professor emeritus Jack Wright will tell about the life and times of the KU alum and Emporia Gazette editor, Kansas' first Pulitzer Prize winner.
